Q&A Call with Assistant Secretary David Danielson

December 11, 2012

If you were unable to make today's call, do not worry! Attendance was not mandatory for participation in the BBCC. Also, the DOE did not cover any new materials. Today's call began with an exciting welcome from Assistant Secretary Dr. David Danielson, followed by a run through of the "BBCC Initial Materials" made available on the BBCC website.

To listen to today's call (approximately 35 minutes):

- Click on the mp3 File under 2013 Resources.

Answers to today's questions:

- One team per university; universities may not join together to form a team. Each team will be assigned two cases by the DOE.
- It is your responsibility to communicate with students at your university, and to coordinate one team.
- Teams must consist of 3-10 members; teams decide how and which members work on your cases (i.e. you may split up or work together).
- BBCC 2012 participants may participate in BBCC 2013.
- A final timeline for BBCC 2013 will be delivered as soon as DOE determines whether or not a downselect process is necessary.

*Please register your university by Wednesday, January 16th***

*Submit a "Preliminary University Registration" to BBCC@ee.doe.gov***
